People behind Steel Bite Pro call it a natural way to boost dental hygiene, inside out making sure that the oral microbiome remains intact. This natural balance of bacteria in the mouth is responsible for protecting from damage, tooth decay, and gum diseases.

Most of the ingredients inside Steel Bite Pro capsules are superfoods that help balance the beneficial and harmful bacteria inside human bodies. Many of them are scientifically proven for an anti-inflammatory and anti-microbial effect, which is why most of its users share satisfactory results after trying this supplement. More importantly, it is a US-made product, following the Good Manufacturing Practices (GMO) and premium packaging. But how to make sure that a dietary supplement can improve oral health?

How Does Steel Bite Pro Help?

The Steel Bite Pro ingredients are responsible for all the benefits associated with it. Although each of them has unique health benefits to offer, as a formula, it recreates the perfect balanced microbiome, which is lost due to poor dietary habits.

These nutrients are the same as food-sourced nutrients, so the supplement calls itself a dietary formula. The busy lifestyle and irregular nutritional habits have cut down various essential nutrients from the diet, which is why taking dietary supplements is a normal thing today. However, the choice of supplement matters, for which going through the ingredients gives the best picture.

For Steel Bite Pro capsules, all ingredients fulfill the nutrient deficiency and reduce the chances of microbial invasion, inflammation, and tooth loss. The ingredients like berberine, beetroot, red raspberry, artichoke, alfalfa, milk thistle, and others act like a complete dental care formula, which a person may lack through the diet. Taking Steel Bite Pro daily and following some lifestyle changes ensures better dental health and lower dental disease risk.

I was all alone in the dark bedroom...

With no one in the world to help me...

Hopelessly trying to gasp for air again and again and again...

Until finally... somebody up there must have really loved me...

I coughed... I coughed blood all over the sheets and pillows...

And one tooth...

I never - not even in a thousand years - would have thought such a thing is even possible...

But even though it was the most terrifying experience from my entire life...

It was that precise nightmarish moment that sent me on a completely unexpected journey that opened my eyes to the sick and deadly practices of the dental industry...

Helped me find out what's really happening inside the body when your gums are bleeding...

And eventually lead me to the discovery of a completely natural and inexpensive method that makes it possible for you to effortlessly regenerate all your gums...

While super-cementing your teeth no matter how advanced your tooth decay is...

In the following 5 minutes, I'll show you why...

Gum disease, tooth decay or bad breath have nothing to do with how good your oral hygiene is...

But with predatory bacteria buried deep inside your gums, eating at your roots and spreading like a plague to your throat, nose and airways...

And, no matter what your doctor tells you, not even the deepest cleaning treatments can reach and destroy these bacteria that are tirelessly lurking inside your mouth even when your teeth seem fine....

But, once you'll find out what you can do about it, not only will you have the power to get rid of your bleeding gums, bad teeth and bad breath once and for all...But you'll also never have to face a dentist for horrifying procedures again...

Because this solution is so simple that you can use it right now in your own home in less than 60 seconds...

And so incredibly powerful that it has been clinically proven to work regardless of your age, medical condition or the severity of your tooth decay...

Without you having to spend a single red cent on endless dental treatments, dangerous chemical-filled medications... painful tartar removal, risky surgeries, or implants.

In fact, this cheap method is so amazing...

That not only did it send shockwaves across the medical establishment...

But many doctors see it as a miraculous key that can unlock gum and teeth rejuvenation...

Yes, I know how incredible this sounds... especially if you've been suffering from tooth decay and terrible pain thinking there's NO escape whatsoever...

But even if your dentist has crushed your hopes by saying that "it's too late", that you're bound to throw all your hard-earned savings on teeth reconstruction and implants....

It's crucial that you stick with me until the very end of my story, because in a few moments....

You'll soon be able to save your teeth and smile with confidence once again.

Just imagine...

No more throbbing pain, no more inflamed, bleeding gums and bad breath...

No more risking serious infections or stuffing yourself with medications hoping the pulsating tooth agony will stop for just one second...

Never having to cover your mouth or feel embarrassed...

Instead eat whatever you want, whenever you want...

Talking, smiling and taking pride in showing your pearly whites....

Being able to kiss your wife or your kids without seeing them turning their heads away...And never ever having to set foot in a dental office again.

Just like 57,000 other people did. People like...

A little bleeding from brushing can happen to anyone, nothing wrong with that, right? Wrong, spitting out blood after brushing is dead wrong...

It's true, it happens to more people than you think...

A whopping 56% of Americans suffer from some form of gum disease...

But this does not make it any less serious...

You're about to see inside this presentation why you should never ignore this sign.

So, not long after, something embarrassing happened.

At school, the other teachers kept turning their heads away when I was talking to them...

Or just made a step back to keep a distance...

And once I've even overheard a few of my students calling me "Beetlejuice"

If you don't know who that is...well, it's a movie character with rotten, horrible teeth...

When I heard them...I just wished the ground would open and swallow me

I went to the bathroom and looked at my teeth in the mirror.

Yellow, with swollen and irritated gums.

And as hard as it was to admit...

It was my breath that kept driving everybody away.

Which explained why Hannah kept avoiding kissing me or even hugging me.

But what really hurt like hell, was when I wanted to take my granddaughter, Sarah, into my arms, and she started crying:

Here's how much it would cost you to "fix" your gums at the dentist and what you would have to go through...

Gum grafts ... about $600 per gum, no guarantee it will work. If your gums are seriously damaged, this could cost you up to thousands of dollars.

Fillings and root canals to "save" the teeth that were already damaged, with prices that range from $500 to $2000- that's a lot of money for a lot of pain if you ask me!

Then there's surgery to "strengthen the gums" or, in medical terms, "pocket elimination surgery" , costs approximately $6,000...

Or - my favourite one- remove the worst teeth and replace them with implants.

Thinking an implant costs $4,500 - best case scenario- and that, according to the doctor- I needed at least 4, I might as well have sold one of my kidneys!

Oh, but the list doesn't stop here... no matter the dental procedure you choose as your torture...

Know that after you'll have to pay for...maintenance, which can cost over $100 per session.

To put it bluntly: expensive, lengthy, painful treatments that promised no real solution...and I assure you, no doctor could ever guarantee you that any of those treatments would work.

It's all a game of chance: only it's your money, your time and your health on the table.

For example...

Did you know that you have to wait for a year and a half to know if your dental implant is a success or not?

Implants are usually a two-part process - first putting in the implant, then waiting for the area to heal and covering it with a crown six to 3-4 months later...

And then, only if 1 year passes without infections or other complications, can you finally breathe a sigh of relief...

As if this depressing list wasn't, the dentist dropped the second bomb on me...

I needed surgery.

You see, my fallen tooth had a fractured root. A piece of this root was still buried deep inside my gums, causing an infection.

So, we needed to remove the remaining bits and fast, before the infection was going to spread even more.

As the doctor explained to me, a tooth infection can "invade" your brain in a matter of hours and lead to severe complications, and even death.

Why? Because each one of your teeth is connected to your brain through tiny nerves.

The infection can travel from the tooth to the nose...to the eyes...and ultimately to the brain.

Quick Evaluation of Steel Bite Pro Ingredients

As mentioned on steelbitepro.com, here is a brief description and benefits of ingredients inside the Steel Bite Pro supplement.

Berberine- A research study from 2018 confirmed that berberine extract could save from periodontal bone loss by re-balancing the oral and gut microbiota. In addition to this, there are plenty of other studies that suggest that it can remove plaque, making sure that gums and teeth are safe. Plus, the high antioxidant count saves from inflammation, pain, and dental floss.

Turmeric- curcumin, the active ingredient inside turmeric, is associated with a number of antimicrobial, anti-inflammatory, and anticancer effects. For a start, it improves the gum health, trying to ensure that no harmful bacterial buildup develops in the gums. It is added in various mouthwashes for its natural antimicrobial effect too.

Milk Thistle- this ingredient focuses on adverse environmental and heavy metal effects on health. Mercury, lead, and many other heavy metals from the dental fillings can build up inside the liver, exposing the body to mercury or cadmium toxicity. Milk thistle saves from these side effects caused by heavy metals before they become a threat to health.

Artichoke- the diverse nutrients inside artichoke makes it a highly nutritious addition to Steel Bite Pro formula. It lowers cholesterol and improves gut health by providing fiber to the body.

Chanca Piedra- this ingredient may not sound familiar, but it has a long medicinal history attached. From the digestive boost to antimicrobial and anti-inflammatory roles, its benefits are unlimited. It is also a diuretic and removes toxins from the body.

Red Raspberry- the antioxidants inside red raspberries save from heart, kidney, and liver diseases. It is also a rich source of vitamin C as well as quercetin, causing inflammatory relief.

Yarrow extract- the reason to add yarrow inside Steel Bite Pro formulation is to make sure that all of these ingredients are circulated and picked up by the cells. Yarrow is responsible for healthy blood circulation all around the body.

Beetroot- the number of nutrients inside beetroot makes it no less than a superfood. Potassium, vitamin C, and iron in beetroot improves blood pressure and save from cardiovascular diseases.

Dandelion, alfalfa, and jujube seeds- the antioxidant count of all three ingredients make it easy for the body to control gums inflammation. Alfalfa also regulates cholesterol and blood sugar levels, while jujube seeds regulate the body's circadian rhythm.

Chicory Root and celery seeds- chicory is highly fibrous, improving gut microbiota, making Steel Bite Pro user experience a balanced oral microbiome. Celery seeds improve bone health and density, including teeth structure.
